

Online Courses

[School name] offers students the opportunity to take online courses to complete their curricular requirements, including the MMC requirement to complete an online learning experience. The state law known as Section 21f allows for students to take up to two online courses -- or more with parent, student, and school leadership agreement -- during an academic term. Online courses may be completed in place of traditional courses in the student's regular schedule, either for first time instruction or to recover credit for previously failed courses. Students taking an online course under 21f will be assigned a mentor to help support them in their learning. Students may select online courses from the local district catalog at [website address] or from the statewide catalog of online courses at <https://micourses.org>.

Students who are successful online learners tend to have good communication and technology skills, a sense of self-discipline and motivation for learning, a general interest in the course subject matter, and a dedicated place to work on the course with computer and Internet access. Parents and students are encouraged to review the Parent Guide to Online Learning and Student Guide to Online Learning before deciding to enroll in an online course. Students must work with their counselor to find the course options most suitable for their needs and learning preferences.
